

Reporter, Debt

TMT Finance, the highly respected business intelligence and data provider for Digital Infrastructure M&A and financing, is looking for a Reporter to join its expanding US editorial team based in New York.

The candidate will be a hungry, scoop-driven reporter, covering real-time debt financing activity in the buoyant American Digital Infrastructure market. They will work as part of a fast growing US Editorial team, and as part of a dedicated global debt coverage team, providing real-time, market leading scoops on project finance, leveraged finance, acquisition finance and securitisation within digital infrastructure.

TMT Finance's editorial team develops trusted relationships with senior leaders and dealmakers based on off-the-record conversations and deep sector insight, and regularly breaks news on large, complex, market-defining transactions. Financial analysis and data is provided in partnership with our in-house research team.

The successful candidate will build an outstanding book of contacts to consistently break exclusive and complex deal stories, developing deep expertise across debt markets and a strong pipeline of forward-looking intelligence. For the right candidate, there are clear opportunities for progression within the company.

Excellent reporting skills, a strong ability to build relationships with senior contacts, and proven experience in financial or business reporting are essential. Experience covering credit, project finance, capital markets, leveraged finance or M&A is highly beneficial. Experience in digital infra, TMT, infrastructure or energy sectors is advantageous but not essential.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Help deliver a sector-leading business intelligence service
- Personally break 5 exclusive off-diary news stories per week
- Build and maintain a strong network of senior-level market contacts
- Consistently outperform major financial news competitors on exclusive stories
- Develop content that supports growth of the subscriber base
- Proof and edit copy from other team members
- Source and write news articles from secondary sources where required
- Collaborate closely with a global team of reporters and editors
- Work with Research, Sales, Marketing and Events teams
- Attend in-person meetings, conferences and industry events in the US and internationally

WHAT WE ARE LOOKING FOR

- At least 1-3 years' experience reporting on proprietary financial or business news
- Strong interest in debt markets, financing structures and M&A
- Desire to build a career in financial journalism within a high-growth sector
- Proven ability or strong ambition to break exclusive stories
- Excellent interpersonal and relationship-building skills
- Strong written and spoken English
- Additional languages beneficial

- Experience in TMT and/or debt markets (DCM, leveraged finance, project finance) advantageous

BENEFITS

- Build a prestigious contact book in a high-growth sector and company
- Competitive compensation package and benefits
- Annual bonus scheme
- New York-based team and office environment
- Regular industry events and market engagement opportunities
- Paid time off plus public holidays plus your birthday
- Team events and social activities
- Opportunity to be part of a high-performing, entrepreneurial and growing company with strong career progression
